

Management:

A management major equips students with the skills to lead, organize, and oversee operations within businesses and organizations. The program focuses on strategic planning, decision-making, organizational behavior, and financial management. Students learn how to manage teams, optimize business processes, and navigate the challenges of managing projects and resources. Management professionals work across various industries, ensuring effective operation and growth in organizations of all sizes.

Typical Industry Sectors:

- ❖ Corporate Business
- ❖ Healthcare
- ❖ Finance
- ❖ Manufacturing
- ❖ Retail

Entry-Level Job Title Examples:

- ❖ Management Trainee
- ❖ Operations Assistant
- ❖ Marketing Coordinator
- ❖ Operations Assistant
- ❖ Human Resources Assistant
- ❖ Project Coordinator
- ❖ Business Analyst
- ❖ Supply Chain Coordinator
- ❖ Retail Manager
- ❖ Financial Analyst

Skills Needed (Hard):

- ❖ Project Management Software
- ❖ Strategic Planning
- ❖ Data Analysis and Reporting
- ❖ Budgeting and Financial Planning
- ❖ Supply Chain Management

Skills Needed (Soft):

- ❖ Leadership
- ❖ Attention to Detail
- ❖ Collaboration Skills
- ❖ Time Management
- ❖ Conflict Resolution

Further Education/Training:

While a management degree provides a solid foundation, certifications in areas such as project management (PMP, CAPM), Six Sigma, or leadership can be beneficial in advancing your career. Additionally, training in business analytics or financial management tools may enhance your skills for specific roles.

Student and National Organizations to Join:

- ❖ National Association of Colleges and Employers \(NACE\) – Offers resources for career development and employer connections.
- ❖ Student Run Business Association \(SRBA\) – A student-run organization for those pursuing business and management careers.
- ❖ Project Management Institute \(PMI\) – A global organization with student memberships for those interested in project management.
- ❖ Society for Human Resource Management \(SHRM\) – A professional organization for students interested in human resources and management.
- ❖ Toastmasters International – Ideal for developing leadership and communication skills through public speaking.