1. Type of Change:

☐ Editorial (non-substantive)

☒ Substantive

Editorial revisions include updates to the organizational structure, web addresses and names/titles, as well as other similar non-substantive changes. Substantive change is defined as addition, deletion, or revision of policy or procedure.

☐ Addition: Where possible, identify the section of the handbook to which addition is proposed:

☐ Deletion: Identify the section of the handbook from which deletion is proposed:

☒ Revision: Identify the section of the handbook to which revision is proposed: II.X

2. Proposals should be made in the form of text intended as an addition to or a replacement of, in whole or in part, some current section of the Faculty Handbook.

Current:

II.X. Faculty Evaluation - Each faculty member in the traditional, pedagogical, clinical and instructor tracks is evaluated by the department chair/director on the bases of effectiveness as a teacher; relationship with students and with colleagues; participation in departmental, college and University activities; research/creative activities (traditional track faculty only); University and public service; and continuing professional development according to the standards and guidelines established by each college department.

Proposed Revision:

II.X. Faculty Evaluation - Each faculty member in the traditional, pedagogical, clinical and instructor tracks is evaluated by the department chair/director on the bases of effectiveness as a teacher; ~~relationship with students and with colleagues; participation in departmental, college and University activities;~~ research/creative activities (traditional track faculty only); University and public service; and ~~continuing professional development~~ professionalism according to the standards and guidelines established by WKU, each college and department.

3. Rationale for revision:

WKU has developed a more consistent method of annual evaluation, this language more clearly aligns language with process.
